Report of the School Board.

The year just past has been a year of general prosperity in the schools. The teachers, generally, have given excellent satisfaction and as a body have worked for the best interests of the schools and pupils of which they have had charge.

The wages paid teachers have, with but one exception, been the same as last year.

The schools have been in session for thirty weeks except the Mountain school kept twenty-seven.

The school board acting with the trustees of Coe's Northwood Academy and of Northwood Seminary have made a contract with each of the two schools, so that they may provide secondary instruction for the pupils of Northwood, and come within the meaning of the recent act of the legislature as High Schools.

The Ridge school house has been repaired and at present the school houses throughout the town are in very fair condition.

The board would express their extreme gratification to the parents, teachers and scholars who have worked together so well for the general efficiency of the school. We wish to emphasize the importance of the fact that every child should be provided with the best education possible, for it is only by the education of the individual that we can preserve the onward march of our present civilization.
